.Name of Activity: Daily extra Tution Batch

Venue: Runanubandh Office

Participants: 80

Summary: When we started this project in 2021, we only had classes and activities sessions for students for one day a week, then we realized that the students coming to us are very undeveloped in writing, reading, arithmetic. Hasn't happened. Lack of early understanding of what is being taught in school is causing a loss of self-confidence resulting in children avoiding going to school or looking for new activities to take vacations. Students being single parents or from very poor families cannot afford outside coaching classes. Many children don't have a father so mother goes out to work all day and no one is educated at home so children are neglected by their parents.

So we started daily tutoring classes for students from June 2022. In this, we have tried to increase children's reading, writing, arithmetic, English reading and writing ability by paying proper attention to the child. We tried to track the progress of each student by keeping records of the assessment of the children every month. Initially, the number of students coming to us was few. But seeing the progress of the students coming to us, other students started coming to us for tuition. We also conducted classes from class 5th to 10th by having paid teachers and running 3 batches in a day. And tried to make progress of the child.

Children are away from many of childhood's activities, therefore the purpose behind building the fort is to celebrate Diwali. Diwali is a festival of love and joy, which is nothing without family. In order to make them happy, we have decided to let them build a fort out of mud and rocks that they can cherish. Summary : The Team of Runanubandh Samstha approached Baya Karve Women's Study Centre for a purpose. Runanubandh samstha conducts 'Sanskar Vargas' for the students since last few years regularly, so that they can help children in developing good habits. However, they observed that children from 8th and 9th Std not really like these activities and need different creative inputs from teachers. Therefore, Runanubandh staff wanted a program based on creative thinking, brain development activities for 8th and 9th Std students, which Dilasa agreed to develop.

Following Activities were conducted 1. Ice breaking games – the purpose was to establish rapport with the children, to draw their attention towards the objectives of the project and increase their readiness to carry out actual tasks. 2. Language development exercises – It has been observed that children are weak in articulation and vocabulary. So activities such as letter to self, making advertisement were conducted 3. Creative thinking – creativity games and exercises such as different uses of a very common object, innovative product development, complete the story, complete the picture 4. Logical thinking – few exercises based on entrance exam and coding were conducted 5. Affective development – Few games, prayers, storytelling activities were especially planned

Over all remarks form Karve Women's Study Centre – Children at Runanubandh are very genuine and studies. In first workshop only they built a good rapport with the trainers. They were all ready to learn new things. They were enthusiastic and taking initiatives to volunteer the work. However, it has been observed that these children are from lower economic strata of the society. There are not exposed to such creative activities in school or at home. Hence they were taking time to understand and grasp the methods and techniques of the tasks, but once they are through then they were brilliant in presenting their thoughts. Their general knowledge was also weak but they promised to read newspapers and to try to increase GK.
